Author˙s Rights for Publication in
»Credit and Capital Markets – Kredit und Kapital«

As an author of an article in »Credit and Capital Markets« you are authorized to share your scientific publication under the following conditions:

»E-Offprint« (Publisher˙s Version)

Upon publication of the article, you will receive personal access to the online issue in which your article appears. To activate your access please contact us under specification of the ❶ journal (incl. issue no./year), your ❷ name and your ❸ email address at ejournals@duncker-humblot.de.

You are permitted to download your article in the Publisher˙s Version and to circulate it – via e-mail or print – to no more than 30 colleagues for personal, non-commercial use.

It is explicitly forbidden to upload the publisher's version of your article to an online platform or to make it publicly accessible in any other way.

Manuscript Version

Articles in the Manuscript Version, i.e., in their final version before format and layout editing by the publisher, may be distributed in the following ways:

- ✓ Circulated either in electronic (e.g. per e-mail) or printed form to colleagues for personal, non-commercial use.

- ✓ Upon publication, posted on your personal website as well as on the website of the research institute to which you are affiliated.

- ✓ After a lapse of 12 months from the date of publication, uploaded to any non-commercial website or platform.

The publisher is not responsible for providing you with the Manuscript Version.

Each publication of the Manuscript Version must include the following explicit statement referring to the Publisher˙s Version: »The final publication is available at: dx.doi.org/[fill in the article˙s DOI number]« OR »The final publication is available at: www.duncker-humblot.de«.

Further Questions?

Any further use, especially commercial use of your article (reprint, translation, etc.) requires the explicit permission of the publisher.

For any legal concern, please contact us at: rights@duncker-humblot.de

For any technical question or problem, please contact: ejournals@duncker-humblot.de